

i am deeply troubled by your "reviewing" of the cross-ownership ban. it is simply unhealthy for any one media company to control the access to and content of the news in any one area.

people need options and access to truly diverse opinions in the media. by allowing one company more channels of information, and allowing the public less, you are undermining the basis upon which the FCC was created.

please do not lift the cross-ownership ban.